

About the College

Established in 1967, Netaji Nagar College is a premier seat of higher education in South Kolkata. Over several decades, almost unobtrusively, the institution has been playing a stellar role in catering to the academic requirements of students, who by and large belong to the economically vulnerable sections of the society. The institution's performance in the two cycles of NAAC assessment speaks volumes of its commitment to excellence in the field of higher education along with holistic growth of its students. It offers Honours courses in Commerce, Bengali, History, Geography, English and Journalism besides other general courses in B.A, B.Sc and B.Com.

About the Department

- Oldest department in any undergraduate institution affiliated to Calcutta University.
- Besides performing appreciably in Calcutta University and other competitive examinations, students of the department are almost everywhere in the media.
- Arranges Internship Programmes for its students (in some cases leading to successful placement), field reporting and other platforms of practical Journalism.
- 'Moner Utthone', the digital paper offers platform for blog writing. It has already registered a phenomenal growth with almost 12000 views across the globe in just two months.
