CC1:-- History of English Literature & CC2:-- and Classical European Literature

Aims: These two papers aim to provide a rock solid foundation to the students of English Honours course. The 1st paper aims to equip the students with a chronological understanding of the historical development of literature. The 2nd paper provides students with a better humanitarian perspective on literature.

Such a proper training equips the students to become better writers, journalists and reviewers.

CC4, 7, 8, 9, 10, 12 – British Literature of different time periods

These papers mainly focus on British Literature and its journey through different genres and techniques of writing. As a student of English Literature, these are essential aspects for having a better and clear understanding of the intended contents of the course.

These papers enable the students to develop creative ideas and skill to play with words, which can be very helpful in the creative writing industry. Also through this process of studying a foreign literature and learning about its people, a student develops an understanding of the ‘other-self’, feel compassionate towards them; which can be a great skill for being a successful P.R (Public Relations) in different industrial sections.

CC3:- Indian Writing in English; CC11:- Women Writings; & CC14:- Postcolonial Literatures

These papers intend to give the students a different perspective of English Literature by focusing on important and relevant aspects like the literary works by women and literatures of the postcolonial period.

This provides the students a greater scope to indulge themselves more deeply in the realm of literature, which can be useful while they choose their careers as anchors, news readers, magazine editors or copywriters.

DSE-B2:-- Women and Empowerment; & DSE-A4:-- Media and Communication Studies

These papers deal with the subjects like: Social Construction of Gender, History of Women's Movement in India (pre-independence and post-independence), Women and Law: Domestic Violence, Female Foeticide, Harassment and Marginalisation, as well as Mass Communication and Globalisation, Writing Pamphlets, Posters etc, Advertisements and Creating Advertisements

These are practically helpful for the students who want to join the media industry or have inclinations towards different social services and social works through the NGO's.

SEC-A1:-- Translation Studies; & SEC-B1:-- Creative Writing

The first paper focuses on the importance of translation in a multi-linguistic and multi-cultural society, like India, and different types of translations like: Literal translation, Free translation & Transcreation. The second paper looks into the different modes of creative writing and gives a practical understanding on writing short Story / Poetry and Preparing for publication.

Through the knowledge of different aspects of Translation studies and the proper skill to translate, a student can choose a translator's job or can be an interpreter. Practical involvement in the process of creative writing enables a student to develop creative ideas and build constructive and logical arguments. It also helps to clearly describe, communicate and summarize any topic and develop the ability to decode and understand different theories, concepts and also enrich the researching skills. These can be very helpful for becoming a writer or newspaper editor by profession.

Sonnet 130 by Shakespeare celebrates the general beauty - standard of the beloved woman and focuses into something deeper, more...

→ Sonnet no. 130 belongs to the second series of the sonnets which are in the form of a sequence. It is about the lady who is deficient in beauty, but is socially attractive. The poet has fallen an easy prey to her charms and wayward whims.

The poet makes it appear in all respect to all standard images of female beauty: eyes like stars, like the sun, lips like coral, breasts like snow, hair like golden wires, rosy cheeks and full-breasted bosom. The poet with refreshing candour, says that his mistress's eyes are not as luminous as the sun. Coral is far more than the red colour of her lips. Compared to white snow, her breasts have greyish bloom. If hair is compared to golden wires, she does not have the same shimmering quality.

Remedial Class 'Entrepreneur' comment in the following Exhausting minds:- The excitement for the pilgrimmage made the burden of troubles very light. Thus all the problem and difficulties that they were yet to face seemed to be nothing their enthusiasm. This stage can be compared to the early youth of man in which he is quite innocent and unaware of the problems and failure of adulthood.

Sun:- The Sun that symbolizes the harshness of nature was burning hot.
It tried to neutralize the fire of enthusiasm that was burning in them.
However, it failed to kill their burning desire. The innocence of first stage weathers away in this stage.

Straggling Crowd
They were now a group of aimless and hopeless wanderers. Their noble aspirations weather away. Being totally exhausted, some of them could not walk anymore while some bent with pain. Thus the enthusiasm fades away and their burden is unbearable.

Write a response to the lecture on Macbeth delivered in the previous online class.

William Shakespeare's play "Macbeth" is set in 11th-century Scotland and is based on historical events and figures. However, Shakespeare also drew from various historical sources, including Holinshed's Chronicles, to create a fictionalized version of the events. Despite being a work of fiction, "Macbeth" contains several references to real historical figures and events that help to create a sense of realism and historical accuracy.

One of the most significant historical references in "Macbeth" is to King Duncan, who ruled Scotland from 1034-1040. Duncan was known for his bravery and his loyalty to his people, and in Shakespeare's play, he is portrayed as a just and good ruler who is betrayed and murdered by Macbeth. Shakespeare's depiction of Duncan is based on historical accounts of his reign, and he is depicted as a symbol of stability and order who is overthrown by the ruthless ambition of Macbeth. Another historical reference in "Macbeth" is to the witches, who are based on real-life beliefs about the supernatural in 11th-century Scotland. In Shakespeare's time, witches were considered to be practitioners of dark magic, and they were believed to be able to control the forces of nature and manipulate people's thoughts and actions. In "Macbeth," the witches serve as a representation of the power of evil and the supernatural, and they play a key role in Macbeth's downfall.

Shakespeare also makes reference to the Battle of Dunsinane, which took place in 1054 and was fought between the forces of King Malcolm III and Macbeth. In the play, the battle is depicted as a decisive turning point in the struggle for control of Scotland, and it is used to symbolize the triumph of good over evil. The battle is also used to emphasize the importance of loyalty and bravery in the face of adversity, and it serves as a reminder of the consequences of treachery and ambition.

Comment on the changing dynamics of relationship between Macbeth and Lady Macbeth through the course of the Play? What idea of the Characters do you have from this changing fact of relationship? Explain your arguments with suitable textual references.

In MACBETH, it is interesting to see how the relationship between Macbeth and Lady Macbeth changes as the play progresses. They begin as partners in crime but drift apart rapidly after Duncan's murder. Lady Macbeth shares her husband's lust for power, and her fierce goading in Act 1 leads him to murder King DUNCAN and seize the throne of SCOTLAND. He is reluctant and fears detection. He recognises that the deed is evil, but Lady Macbeth's ferocious will inspires him with the perverse intensity necessary to overcome his scruples. However, the evils unleashed by the murder prove too much for the new queen, and she goes insane. Reduced to sleep-walking and hallucinations, she eventually dies, as is reported in, Her death is declared a suicide in 5.9.

Lady Macbeth's principal importance lies in her ability to influence her husband early in the play when she urges him to murder the king. Duncan's approach to Inverness which offers the opportunity for murder she fervently prays, 'Come, you spirits . . . unsex me here, / And fill me, from the Crown to the toe, top-full / Of direst cruelty!' and she asks that the milk of her breasts be changed to gall. This speech introduces an important motif: the distortion of sexuality, which is a symbol of moral disorder. She goes on to summon 'the dumbest smoke to Hell' to obscure her deeds from Heaven's sight. This invocation of supernatural horrors is chilling, and reminds us of the WITCHES, already established as a source of evil.

The intimacy between Macbeth and Lady Macbeth combined with the use of perverse sexuality as a symbol of moral disorder has led to a theatrical tradition that presents their relationship as highly charged sexually, and she as a bold flaunter of her sexual charms. However, the play could also suggest sublimated passions whose energies have been displaced onto political ambition. In <sup>any</sup> case, it is clear that their relationship however construed — withers in the atmosphere of mistrust and emotional disturbance that is unleashed with Duncan's murder.

From the Desk of the Principal, Netaji Nagar College

Dr. Amrita Dutta
Principal

It is always encouraging to learn the glorious role of women in freedom movement. I must say that Matangini Hazra, Kanaklata Barua, Rani Lakshmi Bai are the names who are still alive in the mind of all of us. They have shown the embodiment of patriotism, self-respect and heroism. Can't we remember ever the role of Sarala Debi, Susheela Nair, Sucheta Kripalani who led the freedom movement very significantly?

So the initiatives of publishing the Newsletter by the History Department of Netaji Nagar College on the very topic of 'Indian Freedom Movement: Contribution of Women' is truly appreciable.

Few words from HOD

Dr. Shyamasree Rajguru
HOD, History
Netaji Nagar College

The Indian National Movement was one of the greatest mass movement in World History. An important part of the vision of India's freedom struggle was the question of social change and social justice. The most important aspect of the National Movement that it was based upon the understanding that Indian Society was to be rebuilt, just as India's freedom struggle was to be fought, not by the intellectual class alone, not by the elite of middle class but through a movement which was to be based upon the struggle of the common people and of course, the women. They were to be the subject and not the object of history. Women are themselves the catalyst for transformation; Indian freedom struggle is a phenomenon through which the Women in India rediscovered their identity to integrate the civil, political and economic life in the Nation Building exercise. We should appreciate the contribution, sacrifice, dedication and dynamism of our women leaders to liberate the Nation.

I am delighted to state that our students have deliberated on the inspiring life of Sarala Debi Chowdhurani, Basanti Debi, Preetilata Wadeddar, Bina Dasgupta, Kalpana Dutta, Matangini Hajra and their sacrifice in the freedom struggle. The freedom struggle has two opposite approaches to counter the brute imperialism. One is non-violent movement under the leadership of Gandhiji and other was Non-Gandhian revolutionary movement. Indeed, it is a pleasant surprise that our students have identified the heroes of the struggle with their limitations of resources that they will continue their effort to achieve excellence in every sphere of life and empower themselves with historical consciousness and objective analysis of our freedom movement.

I am expressing my heartfelt gratitude to our principal Madam Dr. Amrita Dutta, for her constant support and guidance. I would like to extend my regards and gratitude to Prof. Pinaki Ranjan De (Co-ordinator, IQAC, Netaji Nagar College) and all my colleagues. I thankfully acknowledge the contribution of Prof. Balaram Mistry, Faculty, Deptt. Of Journalism and Mass Communication for his dedicated support in bringing out this publication so nicely. Last but not the least, I express my best compliments to our beloved students for their enthusiastic participation and wish them all the best. Looking forward to enrich this publication in the coming days.

Bengalee woman Revolutionary Pritilata Wadeddar

SURAJ KUMAR JHA (B.A.HISTORY HONS. SEMESTER- 4)

Pritilata Wadeddar was a Bengali revolutionary nationalist from the Indian subcontinent who was influential in the Indian independence movement. Pritilata was born in a middle-class Vaidya (Baidya) family on 5 May 1911, in Dhalghat village in Patiya upazila of Chittagong. Wadeddar was a title conferred to an ancestor of the family who originally had the surname Dasgupta. Her father Jagabandhu Wadeddar was a clerk in the Chittagong Municipality. Her mother Pratibhamayi Devi was a housewife. The couple had six children – Madhusudan, Pritilata, Kanaklata, Shantilata, Ashalata and Santosh. Pritilata was nicknamed Rani. Pritilata passed out of Dr. Khastagir Government Girls' School of Chittagong in 1928 and in 1929, got admitted to the Eden College, Dhaka. In the Intermediate examinations, she stood first among all students who appeared in that year's examination from the Dhaka Board. As a student in Eden College, she participated in various social activities. She joined the group Sree Sangha, headed by Leela Nag, under the banner Deepali Sangha. To pursue higher education, Pritilata went to Calcutta and got admitted to the Bethune College. Two years later, she graduated in Philosophy from the college with a distinction. However, her degree was withheld by British authorities at Calcutta University, she and Bina Das were conferred their certificates of merit posthumously. After completing her education in Calcutta, Pritilata returned to Chittagong. In Chittagong, she took up the job of headmistress at a local English medium secondary school called Nandankanan Aparnacharan School.

Pritilata Wadeddar wanted to dedicate her life to Nationalist movement. On 13 June 1932, Pritilata met Surjo Sen and Nirmal Sen in their Dhalghat camp. A contemporary revolutionary, Binod Bihari Chowdhury, says that "Pritilata was young and courageous. She would work with a lot of zeal and was determined to drive the British away" he also objected that they did not allow women to join their group. However, Pritilata was allowed to join the group because

A COURAGEOUS WOMAN, AGAINST THE BRITISH- "MATANGINI HAZRA"

AYAN BERA, HISTORY HONOURS, 2ND SEMESTER

Matangini Hazra born in 17th November, 1870 was an Indian Revolutionary who participated in the Indian National Movement for Freedom. She was born in a poor peasant family of Hogla village within Tamluk Police Station area. She was the daughter of Thakurdas Maity and Bhagawati Devi. At very young age Matangini was married to Trilochan Hazra of Alinan village, (with the same police station). She lost her husband at the age of eighteen and had to follow strict schedule. On 26th January 1932, the local congress volunteers under the leadership of Gandhar Bhowmik, (prominent freedom fighters and local congress organiser) set out a procession in order to observe the Independence Day. A few girls with conchshells in their hands were in front of that procession. When the procession came close to the house of Matangini Devi, she could not restrain herself from joining it. Then she marched through different villages and reached Krishnaganj in a public meeting. Where she took oath of joining the nationalist movement. She even took the vow in the name of Gandhiji to give up her habit of taking opium. Then she joined Civil Disobedience Movement of 1932 and was arrested several times for breaking the Salt Act in the Alinan Salt manufacturing center. In that year she led many processions and even raised the National Flag in the Tamluk Police Station and in Tamluk Diwani Adalat. She also participated in No-Tax Campaign and went from door to door to persuade the villagers not to pay a single pie to the government as tax of any kind. During 1932 and 1933, when John Anderson, the Governor of Bengal came to Tamluk to address an assembly, Matangini Devi led a procession with black flags in her hands and shouting "Go back Governor" slogans as a protest against the inhumane torture upon the innocent people, both men and women.

As a result she was arrested and sentenced to Six months rigorous imprisonment. After her release from the jail she engaged herself in different constructive programmes like the introduction of Charkha and Khadi, removal of untouchability, prevention of liquors and others.

In 1935 she became engaged in relief works among the flood affected people of Tamluk with Kumar Chandra Jana, then the president of Tamluk Subdivisional Congress Committee. From 1932-1942 she became the most active worker of

Subhasini Mistry The Hope amidst Nothingness

Vijaylaxmi Singh

1st Sem. English Honours, 21-22

Born in a labourer family, Subhasini's whole life is a tale of misery and loss. She was married at the tender age of 12 and she lost her husband due to lack of proper treatment at the young age of 24. Left with nothing but 4 small kids and no one to fall back on, Subhasini was pushed to the edge by fate where most of us would give up out of hopelessness. However, the death of her husband and lack of proper medical care for those who cannot afford it, made Subhasini more resolute and determined. She traded her blood and sweat and worked in many menial jobs to save up money to fulfil her dream-the dream of a hospital for the poor, a hope of better medical land in Hanspokur village and opened a single room clinic. The clinic expanded to Humanity Hospital in 1995 and currently is a 45 bed hospital spreading over three acres with the best medical equipments. Subhasini currently owns two hospitals, one in Nadia and the other in Sunderbans. Subhasini is the ultimate example of a woman's victory against insurmountable odds. She has been awarded many times before, but the most significant award came in 2018 when she was awarded the Padma Shri for her dedication and service to society.

Sindhutai Sapkal The Mother

Minhaj Hussain

1st Semester, English Honours, 21-22

Sindhutai Sapkal's story could have been another tale of oppression of subaltern woman. However she was a woman of different mettle. Thrown out of her husband's house and forced to beg on streets and platforms, Sindhutai realised the plight of the orphans who have no one to call their own. Her personal misery gave her the universally donated. She dedicated her whole life for the cause of the orphans and regarded any orphan as her child. She has till date adopted more than a thousand orphans and has given them a life of dignity and respect. That is why she is regarded as the 'Mai'. She runs more than 6 organizations and has received hundreds of awards; most notable among sal knowledge of the plight of all those who have been aban-them is the Padma Shri in 2018 recognizing her social work.

Jamuna Tudu The Lady Tarzan

Rashmita Nayek

6th Semester, English Honours, 21-22

Often times regarded as the Lady Tarzan, Jamuna Tudu developed a close association with nature and took up bows and arrows to fight the jungle mafia who were indiscriminately cutting down trees and destroying forest lands. She faced opposition from her own family and endured life threatening attacks on her but never gave up. She also formed the Van Suraksba Samiti to fight the menace of timber mafia. She along with her team members saved 50 hectares of forest land and also united more than 10000 women in her native village to protect and save trees and wildlife. She was awarded the Padma Shri in 2019.

Manjamma Jogathi A Beacon of Hope among the Transgenders

Born as Manjunatha Shetty, she was marginalized, and ultimately given to god due to her sexuality and the taboo associated with it. Rejected by parents, harassed, forced to beg on streets, Manjamma never gave up hope for herself. She transformed the pain she suffered at the hands of the society into beautiful forms of art. She is one of the foremost exponents of Jogathi Nritya and has become the ambassador of Jogathi Culture and was the first transgender president of the Karnataka Jaanapada Academy, a government body for performing arts. She was awarded the Padma Shri in 2021. Her struggle and ultimate success to prove her worth provide much hope to the transgender community and their struggle for recognition in India.

Dr. Rani Bang The Doctor for the Poorest

*Rohan Debnath,
4th Semester, English Honours, 21-22*

Rural healthcare has been a troubling issue for a long time partly due to the rickety infrastructure and partly due to lack of awareness among the largely uneducated and poor village women in Maharashtra. Rani Bang had the misfortune to witness this at a very early stage in her life when she saw a child of a village labourer woman die due to lack of knowledge and financial constraints. This brought in a sea change in her life and motivated her to dedicate her whole life to rural healthcare and healthcare awareness. Working as one of the earliest gynaecologists in the area, she set up SEARCH (Society for Education, Action and Research in Community Health), a remarkable step towards betterment of health awareness in rural areas. It is the research of this organization that proved how fatal gynaecological diseases have become in Maharashtra and their findings that pneumonia and not diarrhoea was the cause of fatal child mortality shook WHO. Along with her husband she has established a 13 acre Shodh Gram that trains women to provide basic healthcare to women and new born babies. They are called Aranyadoot or Health Warriors. She was awarded the Padma Shri in 2018.

Lakhimi Baruah The Banker for Every Woman

Lakhimi Baruah lost her parents quite early in her life and was brought up by the relatives. From a very early age she understood what financial insecurity meant and how miserable a woman's life can be due to financial constraints. Working with women she gained firsthand knowledge about the financial problems of the economically weaker section of the women who had no knowledge about finance, banking system and rarely knew how to save and safely deposit money. They were outside the organized banking system and suffered due to it. This is the reason which motivated her to open Kanakdota Mahila Urban Cooperative Bank (KMUCB) in 1998 in Jorhat, the first women led cooperative bank in Assam. The women's bank not only provided easy banking solutions to the women but also imparted crucial financial knowledge to the women. Right from zero balance accounts to crucial credits, the bank has been at the forefront of women empowerment. Saluting her spirit, the government of India awarded the Padma Shri to her in 2021.

Dr. Rohini Godbole Bringing Back the Glory of Women in Science

*Sayam Manna
6th Semester, English Honours, 21-22*

It is not the craze but the curiosity that should drive one. I do science because I love it says Dr. Rohini Godbole, honorary professor, IISc, Bangalore. Dr. Godbole represents one of the rarest tales in Indian Science, the tale of women's conviction and commitment to science, who in spite of contributing so much to the field vanished from popular discourse. Apart from the mystery of Dark Matters in the universe, this is what troubles Prof. Godbole. However, she remains optimistic about the change due to constant government endeavours to encourage women to take up science and also the draft STIP policy. A celebrated teacher, educator and scientist she was awarded the French order of Merit and the Padma Shri in 2019.

Pratibha Ray In the Heartland of the Heart

*Sudipa Chakraborty,
1st Semester, English Honours, 21-22*

A lecturer by profession and a writer by passion, Pratibha Ray's works are characterized by a deep sympathy for the downtrodden, social moral degeneration and the characters wallowing in their own sense of grief and sorrow. Mahamoha (1997), Pruthiaka iswara (1991), Bhagabam ra desha (1991), Mokshya (1996). Apart from her literary works she has written primers on education and translated Hindi works into English. ## Gulabo Sapera The Snake Dancer of Kalbaliya

*Aditi Nayek,
6th Semester, English Honours, 21-22*

Born alive just after munity. In this age of her birth and forced to reality shows and pop-live a conservative life in the Kalbaliya community. Gulabo became a dancing sensation when a Rajasthan Tourism officer discovered her talent at the Pushkar festival. However, her journey was not easy and it was only after the intervention of Maharani Gayatri Devi, that she was allowed to dance and show her performance. Coming from the snake charmer community, Gulabo has mastered snake charmer's dance, a unique form of folk dance common among the snake charmers comularity of western dance forms. Gulabo dreams of teaching and popularizing this dance form among the younger generations. Her love of this art has taken her to places and she was awarded the Padma Shri in 2016.

COVID-19 PANDEMIC: PREVENTION AND PROTECTION MEASURES ON 11 JULY, 2021

COVID-19 is a severe respiratory illness caused by a novel coronavirus called severe acute respiratory syndrome coronavirus 2 (SARS-CoV-2). As the virus became a global pandemic, there were widespread changes to daily life to stop the spread of the virus. Any treatment available is supportive, meaning it does not treat the virus specifically, but supports the body as it fights off the infection naturally. Measures to prevent the spread of the virus have included physical and social distancing, more rigorous hygiene practices, and wearing protective facial coverings.

Documents Showing Affirmative Actions by Gender Equity Cell

Annual Gender Sensitization Action Plan (2020-2021)

At NNC, we believe in equal rights and justice for all. The students getting admitted to NNC often come from the socio-economical lower strata of the society and the female students have often faced discrimination and violence in the domestic space and also in the larger world they inhabit. The violence is systematic and endemic in the societies they live in. Further, their lack of socio cultural and economic capital also makes them extremely prone towards exploitation and deprivation. At NNC we understand that without empowering the women, the task of discharging our duties as mentors and educators would remain incomplete. Without systematic, regular and intensive sensitization and awareness programs, societal upliftment would remain a distant dream. The Women Cell of NNC was founded for this purpose of planning and implementing regular , rigorous and invigorating sensitization and outreach programmes so that not only the women students but also the parents become aware of gender issues, rights and justice. The Women Cell of NNC plans to conduct and supervise the following programmes in the coming academic session:

- 1 .National Level Seminar on Gender Issues
- 2 . Self Defence Classes for Women
- 3 . Publication of a women centric magazine/Newsletter
- 4 . Organizing competitions like essay writing, poster making, quiz
- 5 .Celebrating Women's Day and lives of other great feminists.

Gender Audit Report

Report on Gender Audit: Prepared Dr. Sarbani Goswami, Sr.
Research Officer, School of Women's Studies , Jadavpur University

Report

This report has been prepared by the undersigned on the basis of the report prepared by the Netajinagar College, Evening Branch and by talking to some of the students who studied in this college and the Principal of the College helped to perceive the gender neutral ambience of the college.

Netajinagar college was established in 1967 with the objective of educating the local community surrounding the college.

One has to analyse the history of the area before delving in to the analysis of gender. Gender analysis refers to the variety of methods used to understand the relationships between men and women, their access to resources , their activities and the constraints they face relative to each other. It is an essential element in socio economic analysis.

The area or the colony was set up during the time when the then Calcutta was witnessing post partition problems of rehabilitation and reintegration. The communities arriving from East Bengal wanted to provide their families not only safe homes but also making both men and women enlightened and empowered. Therefore education and empowerment was given the foremost priority within the paradigm of rehabilitation and reintegration.

While going through the report and in conversation with the Principal I made up my mind that my analysis of gender audit should also take into consideration the community outside the college as they are bound to provide an input in the gender role and relationships.

A gender audit analysis implies mainstreaming of gender by changing various gender sensitive aspects of the Institutional principles culture and ethos which discriminate against women.

Observation :

The college has methodically tried to identify gender role in the society and accordingly has set up committees to facilitate mainstreaming of gender.

It has recognised the gender patterns within their composition , structures, processes, administrative and academic culture, design and delivery of services to both men and women students staff and teachers.

The gender equality cell helps in assessing the impact of gender performance in establishing gender equality within the organisation.

The gender equality cell supports and recommends measures to the college in identifying challenges and gender gaps and procedures of improvement.

By establishing the Gender Equality Cell the college internally fosters gender equality and initiates capacity building of both men and women.

Though the Cell functions within a small budget, it has professionally arranged and organised itself to confront the challenges of gender mainstreaming through a human rights approach.

Recommendations :

Gender Audit or a Gender Audit policy is basically a rights based approach to the mainstreaming of gender.

1. Disabilities and inequalities imposed on women may be seen from the context of the society.
2. The college should conduct survey on a regular basis to assess the extent of gender equality that has been perceived within the college community. For example, do the Teachers, Students, Staff have the inclination towards making gender equality a priority. Do they have the awareness of the knowledge of gender equality.
3. Accountability regarding both gender equity and equality should be fostered. This would help in the continuous process of interrogating Gender.
4. A specific budget should be available for activities designed to achieve gender equality.
5. The college along with the Gender Equality Cell should organise sensitisation and advocacy programmes at a regular basis among the college community as well as among the community outside the college to bring in the parity among all.
6. Seminars, Lectures and participatory lectures should be encouraged to help in creating a dialogue among all.
7. Gender based research should be encouraged among students, teachers, staffs.
8. The college should also facilitate support services to both male and female, differently abled persons.

In conclusion, I would like to point out that equality does not mean attaining the same standard as rich and powerful but rather questioning the roots of power and domination so that the domination and oppression can be challenged on the path of TOWARDS EQUALITY.

In solidarity and best wishes.

Report on Webinar Organised by the Women's Cell

- Name of the organizing committee: Women Cell Subcommittee
- Collaborating Agency: IQAC
- Title of the Seminar: The Role of the Women in the short stories of Ashapurna Devi.
- Date: 27.07.2021
- Number of participants: 14
- Details of the Resource person: Sampa Bhattacharya
- Objective: Ashapurna Devi, a prominent Bengali woman novelist (1905-1995) focused on women's creativity and enlightenment during the colonial and post-colonial period in Bengal, India. She herself displayed immense will power, tenacity and an indomitable spirit which enable her to eke out a prominent place for herself in the world of creative writing. Her writings trace the evolution of the Bengali woman as an enlightened and empowered individual struggling against the shackles of discriminatory norms imposed upon her by society. She traces the extremely conservative upbringing that the female members of her generation were subjected to and goes on to show how different individuals responded to these structures in different ways. Some would comply unquestioningly, some would comply simply because they did not dare to protest, while others would break free and find their own niche in the outside world. These issues are addressed by Ashapurna Devi in many short stories. Some works of Ashapurna Debi such as Pratham Pratishruti(1964), Subarnalata(1967), and Bakulkatha(1974) deserve special mention.
- Outcome: The webinar helps the students to know the subject matter in a better way.
